Join us, get informed, get involved, remember that “Together we are very strong”, it also a fact that “two or more heads think better than one”. We as parents are responsible for our kid’s future, even though we cannot make decisions for them, thru our actions we can give them positive influences. Just like it says in the “Prevention Guide; Parents Against Drugs” “It does not matter how good our schools are and how hard the community works, the prevention campaigns by parents are even more effective because we are the ones that have the most loose in this battle”

Once again we want to extend our invitation so you can join us to work together for our children, we should not allow alcohol or drugs to disintegrate our families or limit their opportunities for a brighter future. Community Action Committee 415-717-1099

Alcohol and your Family

What is Al-Anon?

I was very desperate because of my son’s drinking and pot smoking problem, I did not know what to do or where to go, until my psychologist told me to go to an Al-Anon meeting. I did not know what Al-Anon was, until I attended a meeting, only then I knew what it was all about.

Al-Anon is a group that helps friends and families of alcoholics; we share our experiences, strength and hope in order to find solutions to our common problem, the drinking problem of a loved one.

We believe that alcoholism is a disease that affects the whole family, and we also believe that a change in our attitude can help better our family situation. We get together to learn, to offer mutual support, to have a better life whether our alcoholic friend or relative stops drinking or not.

We invite every person who is dealing with a difficult situation because of a friend or relative abusing alcohol or drugs to come and visit us, so you can learn how Al-Anon works and how we can help you. We are sure you will be helped the same way we have been helped.

We get together every Sunday from 9:30 to 11 a.m. at the Alcohol Justice building at 24 Belvedere St. San Rafael. Our group is called Nuevo Amanecer.
